

Dance Teaching Ethics: an introduction

Course tutor: Sho Botham PhD, MA
 Dance & Health Education Consultant
 Email: sho@cpdfordanceteachers.com

Course type	One of a series of short online CPD courses for dance teachers and trainee dance teachers created by Sho Botham
Duration	3 weeks
Aim	To offer dance teachers an online CPD opportunity with email tutorial support
Learning outcomes/objectives	On completion of this course you should have: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• explored an introduction to dance teaching ethics including person-centred approaches and methods to dance teaching, ethical codes and embodying dance teaching ethics in practice</li> <li>• considered ways to embody specific, elements of dance teaching ethics such as, respect for autonomy, within your own dance teaching practice</li> <li>• planned and delivered a taught session, in a dance genre you teach, with a focus on applying basic, dance teaching ethics in practice</li> <li>• reflected on your taught session via email tutorial</li> <li>• engaged in three, tutorial email sessions with your course tutor</li> </ul>
Time	Time commitment for the course is 10 hours over the three weeks. With the flexibility offered by doing this CPD online you can choose when to study and prepare assignments to fit around your existing work and family commitments.
Delivery	The course is delivered via short, online, learning activities that may include reading, presentations or videos and practical tasks. Some learning materials or practical tasks are provided as PDF files for you to download. A weekly email tutorial with your course tutor is an important aspect of the course providing opportunities for discussion, reflection and feedback. Generic outline:        Week 1 - Guided learning and/or reviewing        Week 2 - Planning and application to practice        Week 3 - Reflections and future practice NB: There is no formal essay writing on this course. Any writing is in note form.
Certificate of completion	A certificate showing the date of completion will be sent to you following your completion of the course.